

Shure Incorporated Scholarship (S.N. Shure Scholarship) 2009-2010

Description:

The S.N. Shure Scholarship will be awarded to one undergraduate student each academic year. The scholarship will be $2,000 per academic year.

The scholarship is designed to assist in the growth and education of electrical engineering and mechanical engineering talent. In doing so, Shure may assist, in conjunction with Northern Illinois University, in bringing business and academia closer together. The scholarship is competitive and is based on merit, not financial need. The primary criterion is outstanding academic achievement, although extracurricular involvement, including relevant work experience, is also considered.

Requirements:

- Electrical Engineering or Mechanical Engineering student
- Junior or Senior standing
- Minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA (out of 4.0)
- Applicant must submit a letter explaining why he or she should be the recipient of the scholarship
- Letter of recommendation from a member of the school's faculty
- Transcript from Northern Illinois University. An unofficial copy obtained from CEET Dean's office will satisfy requirement. Ask for copy when submitting complete application packet.
- Must be eligible to work in the United States
- Recipient will visit Shure Incorporated at least once during the course of the academic year for which he or she received the S. N. Shure Scholarship. During this visit, he or she will meet with members of the Engineering area.

Initial applications will be accepted at Northern Illinois University. Those that meet the requirements will be forwarded to Shure. Recipients will be selected by Northern Illinois University and approved by Shure Incorporated.

Funds will be sent directly to the Northern Illinois Student Financial Aid Office, prior to the fall semester.

The student receiving the scholarship will be considered for summer employment.

Application deadline: application must be postmarked or hand delivered by 4:30 on February 2, 2009
