

Attention MA Students

Anthropology Foundation Fund

A limited amount of funds are available to subsidize graduate students who are conducting fieldwork for the MA degree in Anthropology. These funds can be used for travel to the field site, fees associated with consulting collections, and other research costs.

The amount available per student is $300-400, varying with how many students apply and the availability of funds. These funds are disbursed as reimbursement, so students must save receipts and submit for payment. If the funds are used for plane tickets the reimbursement can take place prior to travel.

To apply send a one page description of your project and a one page budget to Dr. Thu, Stevens 102 Anthropology main office.

Deadline: February 15, 2012 for use of the funds in summer or Fall 2012.
