

BACCALAUREATE REVIEW - APPENDIX A

Baccalaureate Review Online Survey

The NIU Strategic Planning Imperative identified general education reform as a top priority. The first phase of this reform requires a review and discussion of the university's baccalaureate degree goals. That is to say, what skills, knowledge, and abilities should NIU graduates achieve? What values and ideals should be promoted?

During the Spring 2009 semester, the NIU Baccalaureate Review Task Force will gather information on these questions through two primary strategies, i.e., focus groups and a web-based survey. During February – April, a number of focus groups will be held with various constituencies to gather their ideas. The Task Force recognizes, however, that some individuals may not have an opportunity to participate in a focus group. Consequently, an online survey was developed. Its content is similar to that used during the focus groups.

The information gathered through the focus groups and online survey will be shared with the university community and other interested groups. After goals are drafted, they will be submitted to appropriate university governance bodies for review.

If you would like to provide feedback regarding NIU's Baccalaureate Review, please take a few minutes to respond to this survey. There are three parts. Part One asks you to rate the importance of potential baccalaureate learning goals as well as provide additional goals. Part Two provides an opportunity to write a narrative response to questions regarding what NIU students should know and be able to do. Part Three asks you to provide demographic information to help us better understand who participated.

Your participation in this survey is entirely voluntary. Although you are encouraged to answer all questions, this is not required. If you have any questions regarding this survey, you may contact Professor Greg Long at glong@niu.edu or 815.753.6508. If you want information regarding your rights, please contact the Office of Research Compliance at Northern Illinois University at 815.753.8524.

Sincerely,

Greg Long and Earl Seaver

Co-Chairs, Baccalaureate Review Task Force
