Introduction

This comprehensive reference list has been prepared to document the current literature directly related to Hellison’s Teaching Personal and Social Responsibility (TPSR) model. While this model has been developed in practice over several decades, the published literature related to the model is expanding at an increasingly rapid rate. This is due in part to the widespread popularity among practitioners in the US and abroad. Also growing is the number of scholars using traditional as well as engaged approaches to inquiry in their study of TPSR, its implementation, its effects on youth participants, as well as the best practices for training program leaders in the model. This list is divided into the following sections: books, book chapters, peer-reviewed academic articles on TPSR, peer-reviewed professional articles on TPSR, and other publications related to or supporting TPSR. In an effort to ensure this list is comprehensive and complete, we have invited Don Hellison and several other leaders in the TPSR community of scholar-practitioners to review the list and point out omissions. As of January 2014, we are confident this list is reasonably complete and up to date, however, we anticipate that every one or two years it will be revised and updated. In its current state, the list contains 9 books, 29 book chapters, 58 peer-reviewed academic articles on TPSR, 44 peer-reviewed professional articles on TPSR, and 36 other publications related to or supporting TPSR for a total of 176 references.
