Transfer Guide for Illinois Community College Students

The mission of the School of Family, Consumer, and Nutrition Sciences at Northern Illinois University is to generate and transmit knowledge that supports families and individuals in meeting human needs for self development, social interaction, resource allocation, clothing, food and nutrition, and hospitality. All programs lay the groundwork for graduate study.

Students in the nutrition, dietetics, and hospitality administration undergraduate major study all aspects of nutrition, foods, and hospitality. The hospitality administration emphasis prepares students for careers in foodservice and lodging management. The emphasis provides basic preparation for fulfillment of the baccalaureate requirements for careers in hospitality management or for graduate studies in this area. Majors in this emphasis receive practical experience in a student-operated dining facility, in on-campus residence halls where several thousand meals are served daily, and in a variety of other food service operations used as internship/independent study sites.

This transfer guide is designed as an advising tool to facilitate a smooth transition between institutions by identifying relevant course work recommended to be completed prior to transfer. Community college students are advised to also complete an A.A. or A.S. degree prior to transfer and to consult the NIU Articulation Handbook for information regarding the transferability of courses. All students planning to transfer are advised to consult with the College of Health and Human Sciences for detailed information.

Students who enter the nutrition, dietetics, and hospitality administration program with the courses listed here and who have completed an A.A. or A.S. degree can usually expect to complete the NIU program in two years.

Special Requirements

Students must obtain the Illinois State Sanitation Certificate and meet current Illinois Department of Public Health requirements for food handlers. They must also get CPR & First Aid Certification. In addition, students must get 100 hours of hands-on work experience in the food service field.
