

Dear Applicant;

Thank you for your interest in the Certificate of Graduate Study in Eating Disorders and Obesity (also referred to as Eating Disorders & Obesity Certificate, EDOC). We feel that this program effectively addresses some of the major contemporary issues of mental and physical health in relation to obesity and eating disorders. The program is flexible and can be shaped to meet varied needs ranging from health promotion and disease prevention to professional intervention. It can be completed as a stand alone program or, can be incorporated into your current master's program. Depending upon your master's program, there is potential for course overlap with the Certificate and master's programs.

To apply, you must have a degree in family, consumer, and nutrition sciences or related undergraduate or graduate degree. You must have introductory coursework in nutrition, psychology, and family relationships. Graduate or Student-at-Large status is required.

Enclosed is the EDOC brochure and application form. If you have any questions after examining the information, please feel free to contact me at 815/753-6343 or aozier@niu.edu. We are delighted you are interested in this Certificate program!

Sincerely,

Amy Ozier, PhD, RD, LDN
Facilitator,
Certificate of Graduate Study in Eating Disorders & Obesity
Assistant Professor

encl.