September 2014 Student Handbook Addendum

In February 2014, the faculty approved the following change in the requirements for course overloads, which supersede the provisions in the first paragraph on page 33 of the 2012 Student Handbook.

FULL-TIME ENROLLMENT REQUIREMENTS

A full-time student may not take fewer than 12 credit hours per semester. The normal course load first year is 16 credit hours per semester. After the first year, the normal course load is about 15 credit hours per semester. In no case may a student enroll in more than 18 credit hours in a semester. Upper-level students with cumulative GPAs lower than 2.4 may not take more than 16 credit hours per semester without permission from the Associate Dean for Student Affairs. Normally the number of credit hours is equal to the number of class hours per week.

In August 2014, the faculty approved the revocation of the student work certification requirements. Accordingly, the third paragraph on page 33 of the 2012 Student Handbook is no longer in effect, and work certification forms are no longer required.
