If someone seems too intoxicated to consent or doesn’t agree to sex, it’s sexual assault.

Consent is a freely given agreement where neither party is incapacitated by drugs or alcohol.

Getting someone drunk to have sex is not consent.

Get help separating the person from a potential perpetrator.