Internationally Oriented Research

International Research Areas and Publications:

Dr. Abu Bah's research focuses on issues of democracy, nation building, ethnicity, and the peace-making and peace-building role of the international community.

Dr. Laura Heideman’s research looks at the long-term process of rebuilding communities after the end of wars and especially focuses on the role non-governmental organizations (NGOs) play in peacebuilding.

Dr. Kristopher K. Robison’s research interests include globalization and development, internationalization of telecommunications technology and usage, political violence, international terrorism, and macro-social theory.

➢ Other faculty publications with an international focus:

International Journal:

NIU Sociology Department is the home for the journal African Conflict and Peacebuilding Review. Dr. Abu Bah is the Editor and one of the founders of the journal.

Click on the link and take a look! http://www.jstor.org/action/showPublication?journalCode=africonfpeacrevi

International Sociology Association:

http://www.isa-sociology.org