

The program is very full this year, with many invited addresses and symposia as well as paper sessions; thus, there are many concurrent sessions. The following is an annotated list of invited addresses and symposia; within each category, sessions are listed in order of occurrence on the program. Invited addresses are scheduled without concurrent sessions in the discipline of the invited speaker.

Invited addresses:

Thursday, March 28, 2002

4:00 p.m. - 5:20 p.m. Psychology Session VII

Congenital Amusia: A Music-Specific Impairment

Isabelle Peretz, University of Montreal

Dr. Peretz is a professor of psychology at the University of Montreal and director of the Laboratory of Neuropsychology of Music and of Auditory Cognition. The url for her laboratory's webpage is <http://www.fas.umontreal.ca/psy/GRPLABS/lnmcg/website/index.html>. The webpage includes information in both French and English.

Dr. Peretz also will be the discussant for another invited address on the psychology of music on Thursday evening, and Caroline Palmer, the Thursday evening speaker, will be the discussant for Dr. Peretz's address.

7:00 p.m. - 8:20 p.m. Psychology Session X

The Role of Intentions in Memory for Music Performance

Caroline Palmer, The Ohio State University

Dr. Palmer is an associate professor of psychology at the Ohio State University and head of the Music Cognition Laboratory. She received the American Psychological Association's Distinguished Scientific Award for Early Career Contribution in 1996. The url for her laboratory's webpage is <http://www.psy.ohio-state.edu/mcl/mclhome.html>.

Dr. Palmer also will be the discussant for another invited address on the psychology of music on Thursday afternoon, and Dr. Peretz, the Thursday afternoon speaker, will be the discussant for Dr. Palmer's address.

7:00 p.m. - 9:30 p.m. Philosophy Session V

The Unity of Perceptual Experience

Michael Tye, Temple University

Dr. Tye is a professor of philosophy at Temple University and visiting professor of philosophy at King's College, London. The url for his webpage is <http://astro.ocis.temple.edu/~mtye/index.html>.

Terence Horgan, professor of philosophy at the University of Memphis, will comment on Dr. Tye's presentation. The url for Dr. Horgan's homepage is <http://cas.memphis.edu/philosophy/thorgan>.

Friday, March 29, 2002

10:00 a.m. - 10:50 a.m. Psychology Session XVII

Becoming Symbol-Minded

Judy Deloache, University of Virginia

Dr. Deloache is a professor of psychology at the University of Virginia and a past president of Division 7 (Developmental Psychology) of the American Psychological Association. The symposium Early Symbolic Development, immediately preceding Dr. Deloache's address, was developed to complement Dr. Deloache's presentation.

11:00 a.m. - 12:50 p.m. Psychology Session XVIII

Treatment and Prevention of Depression

Steven Hollon, Vanderbilt University

Dr. Hollon's invited address will be presented as part of the symposium Treatment of Depression. Dr. Hollon also will serve as discussant for the symposium. The url for Dr. Hollon's listing on the Vanderbilt website is <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/AnS/psychology/faculty.html#hollon>.

2:00 p.m. - 4:50 p.m. Philosophy Session XIV

Author Meets Critics: Mark Timmons, Morality Without Foundations

Paul Bloomfield, of the University of Connecticut, and William Tolhurst, of Northern Illinois University, will present critiques of Morality Without Foundations. The url for Dr. Bloomfield's homepage is <http://vm.uconn.edu/~wwwphil/bloomf.htm>. Dr. Tolhurst's webpage can be reached through the website of the Department of Philosophy at Northern Illinois University; the url for that website is <http://www.soci.niu.edu/~phildept/>.

Mark Timmons, the author of Morality Without Foundations, is a professor of philosophy at the University of Memphis. He will respond to the comments of Drs. Bloomfield and Tolhurst. The url for Dr. Timmons' homepage is <http://cas.memphis.edu/philosophy/mtimmons>.

3:00 p.m. - 4:50 p.m. Joint Session I

How the Mind Hurts and Heals the Body: The Science of Psychoendoneuroimmunology

Oakley Ray, Vanderbilt University

Dr. Ray is a professor of psychology, associate professor of pharmacology, and professor of psychiatry at Vanderbilt University. The url for Dr. Ray's listing on the Vanderbilt webpage is <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/AnS/psychology/faculty.html#ray>.

William Bechtel and John Lachs will be discussants. Dr. Bechtel is a professor of philosophy and director of the Philosophy, Neuroscience, and Psychology program at Washington University, St. Louis, as well as a past president of the Society. The url for his webpage is <http://www.artsci.wustl.edu/~bill/index.htm>.

Dr. Lachs is the Centennial Professor of Philosophy at Vanderbilt University. The url for his webpage is <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/AnS/philosophy/Faculty/Lachs.html>.

Saturday, March 30, 2002

9:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m. Joint Session III

President's Invited Address

The Mind's Greatest Trait-Its Life and Times

Frank Farley, Temple University

Dr. Farley is a professor of educational psychology at Temple University and a past president of the American Psychological Association. The url for his webpage is <http://www.temple.edu/education/faculty/Farley.htm>.

William Bechtel will be the discussant from philosophy. Dr. Bechtel is a professor of philosophy and director of the Philosophy, Neuroscience, and Psychology program at Washington University, St. Louis as well as a past president of the SSPP. The url for his webpage is <http://www.artsci.wustl.edu/~bill/index.htm>.

Duane Rumbaugh will be the discussant from psychology. Dr. Rumbaugh is a professor emeritus of psychology and of biology at Georgia State University, the past director of the Language Research Center at Georgia State University, and a past president of the Society. The url for his webpage is <http://www.gsu.edu/~wwwpsy/faculty/rumbaugh.htm>.

Symposia:

Thursday, March 28, 2002

12:00 p.m. - 1:50 p.m. Psychology Session I

Key Barkley Symposium on the History of Psychology

The Key Barkley Symposium this year includes a memorial to Barkley, a longtime member of the Society and original organizer of the history symposium later named in his honor. Barkley died last year at the age of 101.

12:00 p.m. - 1:40 p.m. Psychology Session II

Individual Differences in Cognition

2:00 p.m. - 3:50 p.m. Psychology Session IV

Common Territories: Looking Across Literatures at Human and Animal Behavior

This symposium is complemented by a paper session (Psychology Session III) on comparative psychology from 12:00 p.m. to 1:40 p.m.

2:00 p.m. - 3:50 p.m. Psychology Session V

Festschrift Symposium for Joel S. Warm: Contemporary Studies of Vigilance at the University of Cincinnati
Dr. Warm is a past president of the Society.

3:00 p.m. - 4:50 p.m. Philosophy Session II
Language, Logic, and Reasoning

4:00 p.m. - 5:50 p.m. Philosophy Session III
Emotion and Valuation

5:30 p.m. - 6:50 p.m. Psychology Session VIII
Intelligence, IQ, and g: A Preliminary Analysis from the Outside and Ethical Implications

This symposium, organized by Thomas Cadwallader, the current president of the Society, includes a presentation by Dr. Cadwallader and a presentation by one of his collaborators as well as commentary (from the philosophy side) by Dorothy Coleman, a past president of the Society, and (from the psychology side) Frank Farley, the president's invited speaker and a past president of the American Psychological Association.

Friday, March 29, 2002

8:00 a.m. - 9:00 a.m. Psychology Session XIV
Special Symposium in Association with Deloache's Invited Address: Early Symbolic Development
This symposium was organized by Georgene Troseth to complement Dr. Deloache's invited address. Dr. Troseth, now on the faculty of Vanderbilt University, is a former student of Dr. Deloache's. Dr. Deloache will present her address at 10:00 Friday morning, immediately after this symposium.

11:00 a.m. - 12:50 p.m. Psychology Session XVIII
Treatment of Depression
This symposium incorporates Steven Hollon's invited address (listed above) along with complementary papers on aspects of depression.

1:00 p.m. - 2:50 p.m. Psychology Session XIX
The Spatial Organization of Visual Perception and Action

1:00 p.m. - 2:50 p.m. Psychology Session XXI
From Fechner to Modern Psychophysics: 200 Years and Counting