

Accelerated Law Degree Programs

Accelerated B.A./J.D or B.S./J.D. programs offer you the opportunity to earn both your bachelor's degree and J.D. degree over the span of six years, rather than the traditional seven years. Programs are available in the following areas:

- English
- Environmental Studies
- History
- Philosophy
- Political Science
- Sociology
- World Languages and Cultures

These programs require you to finish your general education and major requirements for your bachelor's degree in three years, so you can begin law school the fall of your fourth year. Since you will still be considered an undergraduate, you would still be eligible for Pell and MAP grants and you would be paying undergraduate tuition for your first year of law school. Merit-based scholarships and financial aid are available for competitive applicants. Honors students, regardless of major, are eligible for the accelerated degree program.

Degree requirements

- 3.25 cumulative GPA.
- Completed 90 credits, fulfilling all general education and major requirements.
- Taken the LSAT and scored at or above the median LSAT score for the previous year's entering class of NIU's College of Law.

Students who meet the requirements can apply to the NIU College of Law under the special provisions of these programs.
