Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, I expect that students will:

1. Be able to discuss the basic tenants of the process of Science.
2. Have appreciation for some of the significant scientists and their discoveries;
3. Be able to analyze the influence of science on society and society on science;
4. Consider the impact science has on their students lives.
5. Be able to develop lesson plans that demonstrate these connections.

Illinois Professional Teaching Standards: 1E, 2B, 2C, 2D, 2F, 2H, 2J, 3G, 5N, 9U

Attendance

Should you need to be late, leave early, or miss a class, please notify me in writing (email is fine) as much in advance as possible. Failure to notify me in writing of an absence will be regarded as an unexcused absence and there will be no make-up assignments, quizzes or tests. Due to the nature of the course and the work involved, attendance is very important. If you must miss class it is your responsibility to get the notes from a classmate and to find out what went on in class during your absence.

Assignments

You will be expected to complete a number of assignments throughout the semester. There will be clear deadlines when these assignments must be handed in. Late assignments will receive half credit. Assignments that are one week or more late will not be accepted and a zero will be recorded in the grade book.

Tests and Quizzes

Quizzes and exams may consist of any number of the following: true/false, multiple choice, definitions, short answer and short essay questions. Quizzes will be in class but other assignments may be on blackboard. I will announce in class when online homework is assigned. It is your responsibility to make sure your computer works with Blackboard technology.

Project and Presentations

There will be opportunities to conduct laboratory exercises during the semester. For some activities, you may work with one or more partners for these projects and all parties will receive the same grade for project produced. In addition, you will be expected to give a presentation at the end of the semester. You will be able to use the technology that is available in the room for your presentation.

Grading:

In-Class Assignments	35%
Recent Discoveries	5%
Reading Assignments	10%
Presentation	10%
Quizzes (x4)	20%
Final Exam	20%

Plagiarism Statement from the Northern Illinois University Undergraduate Catalog: "Good academic work must be based on honesty. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own work that which he or she has not produced is regarded by the faculty and administration as a serious offense. Students are considered to have cheated if they copy the work of another during an examination or turn in a paper or an assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else. Students are guilty of plagiarism, intentional or not, if they copy material from books, magazines, or other sources without identifying and acknowledging those sources or if they paraphrase ideas from such sources without acknowledging them. Students guilty of, or assisting others in, either cheating or plagiarism on an assignment, quiz, or examination may receive a grade of F for the course involved and may be suspended or dismissed from the university.."

Expectations

We will set a standard of professional comportment, in which professional behavior, including attendance, dress, participation, courtesy, and the submission of assignments by the due date are both expected and required. Professional demeanor, of the type that we expect in the educational workplace, is required at all times in this course. Please silence your cell phone and other electronic devices during class.

Northern Illinois University is committed to providing an accessible educational environment in collaboration with the Disability Resource Center (DRC). Any student requiring an academic accommodation due to a disability should let his or her faculty member know as soon as possible. Students who need academic accommodations based on the impact of a disability will be encouraged to contact the DRC if they have not done so already. The DRC is located on the 4th floor of the Health Services Building, and can be reached at 815-753-1303 (V) or drc@niu.edu.
