Asynchronous Courses

Asynchronous online courses occur through online channels without real-time interaction and are taught 100% online, but do not have an assigned meeting time for the course. When you register for an asynchronous course in MyNIU, it will indicate the course is online (100%) asynchronous where the "room" is listed. There will not be listed course meeting times.

Asynchronous online courses occur through online channels without real-time interaction and are taught 100% online, but do not have an assigned meeting time for the course. When you register for an asynchronous course in MyNIU, it will indicate the course is online (100%) asynchronous where the "room" is listed. There will not be listed course meeting times.

Add-on 1 credit course for BIOS 407/507 enrolled students.

Online course with ONE DAY (TBD) in person for testing.

The one day in-person date is for an outside physical test - so the date will depend on when weather works, when works best for the student as the student execute their restoration project, and what fire season looks like.

In this course, we explore the politics of Indigeneity in Southeast Asia from the experiences and vantage points of different marginalized ethnic groups in the region that have in recent years identified in solidarity with the global Indigenous Peoples\(^{\text{a}}\) movement in pursuing one avenue of empowerment. While the concept of Indigeneity in Southeast Asia is generally considered problematic given the presumed difficulty of differentiating between original and settler peoples, this course examines and moves beyond these debates in recognizing the fact that numerous Indigenous Peoples\(^{\text{a}}\) movements have developed in different parts of the region since the late 1980s. We especially focus on Indigenous movements that have developed in Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar/Burma, the Philippines, Thailand, and the broader region.

The architecture, paintings, monumental sculpture, and other visual arts of Renaissance Italy have influenced artists and architects for five centuries and circled the globe from Europe to the Americas and Asia. We will examine the original cultural meanings of these arts, and how those meanings have changed as these arts have traveled across time and place. Each student will work on an original research project. ARTH 330F satisfies PLUS (Creativity and Critical Analysis) requirements and is included in the Global Connections Pathway. It has been certified as "Writing Infused."

Study of the history of contemporary art is a study of ideas about art as well as intertwined historical contexts. On the one hand, we see the increasing institutionalization and commodification of art. On the other hand, we see the pursuit of social justice. The era of contemporary art begins in the mid-1950s, when artists adopt Marcel Duchamp's insight that art is primarily conceptual, not visual. This means that an artwork is not solely a visually stimulating object; instead, it is a vehicle for exploration. In addition to lectures and readings, and two brief essays, this course gives students the opportunity to present their favorite contemporary artist to the class. Every third class will be wholly devoted to discussion. ARTH 350 satisfies PLUS (Creativity and Critical Analysis) requirements, is included in the Creativity, Innovation, and Change Pathway, and has been certified as "Writing Infused."

This course will introduce students to the tradition of multicolor woodblock prints (also known as ukiyo-e) that were created during the Edo period (17-19th c.) and encourage independent research of particular themes and genres within the tradition. It will be structured like a seminar for exploring such themes as the visualization of the pleasure quarters, glamorization of kabuki actors, the feminine mystique of courtesans, dueling government censorship, distinctions of high and low art, ghosts and demons, and the nature of parody and visual entertainment. The class will have the opportunity to work remotely with faculty and students at the Yamaguchi Prefectural University in Japan.
