PREAMBLE

It is essential to the character and mission of a mature university that the faculty have the primary authority and responsibility to develop, sustain, and enhance the intellectual quality and reputation of the institution and to maintain its academic integrity. In accordance with this principle, the Northern Illinois University Constitution provides for university governance as a shared process with faculty predominance in all policy decisions relating to the university curriculum, to student admissions and academic standards, and to the faculty personnel process, with active faculty participation in many other areas of university policy and operations. In addition, to ensure effective faculty involvement in university governance, Article 7.3 of the University Constitution and Article 14 of the University Bylaws establish a Faculty Senate as the representative body of the faculty. The purposes of the Faculty Senate are:

1. To promote a climate of academic freedom for the university community;

2. To advance the instructional mission of the university by maintaining an optimal learning environment throughout the university;

3. To encourage research and artistry and the appreciation of the intellectual values of the arts, the humanities, the sciences, and the professions;

4. To serve as the legitimate representative of faculty concerns vis-a-vis the university administration;

5. To define and establish standards and procedures of accountability concerning professional faculty ethics and responsibilities, and to promote adherence to those standards and procedures; and

6. To encourage an informed, continuing, and academically responsible participation in those faculty governance roles defined in the University Constitution and Bylaws.
